THE 1969 QUADRANT

Perkins High School
Sandusky, Ohio

A Time To Remember 1969

TO EVERYTHING THERE IS A SEASON, AND A TIME TO EVERY PURPOSE UNDER HEAVEN . . .

Perkins High School--1969--
was a time for laughter, a time for crying, a time for studying, a time for victory, and a time for defeat. The 1969 QUADRANT will bring to you the active, even hectic times spent at PHS by the students and by those who staff the school and make you more aware of the significance of that common word "time."

Seen here is the curriculum section where the education process begins.

College Prep Means Preparation Through Foresight

For many students at Perkins the time spent in high school is used to make ready for the realms of higher education, and as the demands of college increase, students are required to achieve higher standards in the college preparatory curriculum. The advance science and math courses challenge students to develop their powers of reasoning and observation. These same abilities are also called upon in English literature and especially principles of writing, the ultimate challenge to the college-bound student.

A highlight of the academic year at Perkins was the school's first heart transplant. Shown above are the Biology II scientists performing this feat on "patient" Ken Tunnell. The heart was donated by a Waldock Packing Company pig.

For Those Who Are Uncertain About the Future, the General Program Exists

The general course is designed for students who are not sure of their plans for the future. This curriculum allows students to sample many kinds of subjects in an effort to discover their preferences. Business courses, and practical science classes, as well as the standard academic studies, comprise this area, thus offering students a wide range of possibilities for future occupations.

Specialized Training Is Designed for Students Who Want a Technical Education

The time spent in high school can serve a double purpose for some students at Perkins. These are the students who prefer to train themselves while in high school and pursue their respective ambitions upon graduation. Provided for the student who has this "right now" desire are the specialized courses at Perkins and EHOVE, the tri-county vocational school in this area.

For these programs facilities are provided to train students to be carpenters, barbers, beauticians, secretaries, computer programmers, and other skilled tradesmen. The students who enter into this program emerge prepared to immediately enter the business world.

THOSE WHO MAKE SCHOOL POSSIBLE

Non-Teaching Staff Give Valuable Services

The non-teaching staff of the school are often behind the scenes. Yet by the time a student graduates, his memories of such people are often the strongest.

Who could forget the practical sense of Mrs. McAllister AND that comfortable cot in her clinic? And what about Mr. Liston's and Mrs. Knerr's facial expressions (right) when the library filled to capacity. No one could forget, either, the two people a student could always count on for a smile . . . Mrs. Zolinak and Mrs. Haddox.

Participants in Liberal Arts Courses Garner Many Awards

Fine arts department members are Ruth Martinez, vocal music; Mary Ann Crabtree, speech; Ethel Sampatacos, art; and H. Dale Moore, instrumental music.

Language teachers are JoAnne Gawryzewski, French; Ronald Berger, Spanish; and Eleanor Null, Latin.

Physical education is handled by Marcia Mandel and Ted Schwanger.

Administration

The 1961 QUADRANT, Perkins' first yearbook, carried these words in its introduction:

"We have begun, and I am sure we will continue, to expand and change our educational system as time and demand require. Through the co-operation of the board of education, members of the faculty, and residents of the district, maximum efficiency of our system can be realized. The future is bright."

The words were written by Mr. Thomas Hartley who was then completing his year as Executive Head of the Perkins Local School District. They are the words of a man who recognized the difficulties which our small but growing school system must face and who was willing to lead us through these early years. And he has led us to a time when the present, as well as the future is bright.

Thus as recognition of the thirty-five years he has devoted to the educational field and as special appreciation of his contribution to the Perkins School System, we dedicate the 1969 QUADRANT to Mr. Thomas Hartley.

ACTIVITIES

A Time for Homecoming 1969

A time for joy . . . a time for tears . . . a time for festivities is what Homecoming 1969 proved to be at P.H.S. Such festivities were highlighted by the Homecoming Dance, a victorious emergence from the grid iron, and the selection of the 1969 Homecoming Queen and Court which consisted of (center photo left to right) Sr. Attendant Kathy Grimm, Jr. Attendant Mary Jordan, Queen Linda Zuck, Fresh. Attendant Barbara Binting, Former Queen Kathy Esposito, Soph. Attendant Mary Pardee, and Sr. Attendant Sue Randel.

The Perkins High School Student Council is the student governing body. Its members hold the most responsible position in the school.

The primary activity of the council this year was the sponsoring of dances. The Christmas Dance, the Sadie Hawkins Dance, and the entire Homecoming Weekend were produced under the leadership of Council president Sue Randel.

Other activities for the 1968-1969 school year included the awarding of class "spirit points," the presenting of the spirit trophy to the class with the most points, and the revising of the school dress code.

Other student council officers include Kathy Shepherd, vice-president; Debbie Kiss, secretary; Ron Zorn, treasurer; and Peg Seiler, historian.

National Honor Society Inducts Sixty Members for a Record High

S.C.S.L.--this group of letters took on meaning for sixty Perkins High School students when they were inducted into the National Honor Society on November 12, 1968. The letters stand for scholarship, character, service, and leadership, and demonstration of these qualities is the requirement for membership in the society.

Presiding at the ceremony were Mrs. Gawryzewski, adviser; Gus Sprow, president; Mary Jo Zielske, vice-president; Libbie Stacey, secretary; and Jenny Bradford, treasurer. Darlene Wobser displayed and described the National Honor Society flag which she made.

Mike Agsten, Carol Church, Marilyn Hawkins, Randall Koch, and Leonard Matz are the seniors who were inducted while Ed Bergh, Scott Bing, Kathy Decker, Marian Dolce, Jim Galloway, Phil Gastier, Pam Gillette, Nona Graham, Lizette Greene, Sharla Kennelley, Deb Kiss, Joan Lamb, Dennis Moosebrugger, Gary O'Shaughnessy, Clara Pollerman, Laura Prusinski, Deb Roehrs, Carolyn Sargeant, Dave Schoewe, Doug Sheffer, Diane Spadaccini, and Welby Sweet are the juniors. Thirty-two sophomores were named probationary members.

Key Club Is Kiwanis-Sponsored Organization

Under the leadership of President Anthony Cundari, the Perkins Key Club contributed many service projects to their school and community. The Key Club held a Christmas Party for the exceptional children at the Betty Rinderle School. They assisted at the Perkins Basketball games and are assisting in a continuing project to beautify the Perkins School grounds. They also have helped at the playgrounds of the Perkins Elementary Schools. Officers were:

Anthony Cundari--President
Bill Manson--Vice-President
Butch Wingfield--Secretary
Terry Ross--Treasurer

Kerry Myers--Senior Advisors
Steve Lecoy

FTA Members Learn While They Serve

The Future Teachers of America organization exists for two purposes, to inform interested students of the various aspects of the teaching profession and to aid the teachers here in the high school.

In achieving the first purpose FTA members participated in Teaching Career Day at Bowling Green University in April. There seminars were held concerning different areas in the educational field.

The second purpose was accomplished by assigning members to help individual teachers during the year. Grading papers, typing, recording book reports, and decorating bulletin boards were just some of the services given by the girls. The Annual Teacher Appreciation Day was held this year on April 18 with members presenting carnations to the teachers in recognition of their efforts.

PHS Band Is Tops in District Competition

Participation in contests accounted for much of the band activity this year. On March 22 the band received a superior rating at the district contest in Clyde, and went on to state competition at Lexington on April 19.

Other highlights of the year were participation in the musical "Bells Are Ringing," the annual Recognition Banquet, the spring concert on May 11, and the appearance with other bands at the opening of Cedar Point on May 24.

Band officers for the 1968-1969 school year were Ron Surratt, president; Ron Zorn, vice-p.; Anne Hotchkiss, secretary-treasurer.

Choir Caps Successful Year

The choir found 1969 a time for recognition. In state solo and ensemble contests, Perkins received four superiors and four excellents. The superior ratings went to Mixed Ensemble, Chamber Ensemble, Marilyn Hawkins, and Mike Sartor.

Participation in the musical, BELLS ARE RINGING and in a combined concert with St. Marys and Sandusky High Schools highlighted the year.

Choir officers for the 1969 were Mike Sartor, president; Mike Moomaw, vice-president; and Lynn Axelrod, secretary.

Drama Club and NFL Members

Show Great Deal of Talent

Under the guidance of Miss Mary Ann Crabtree, the Drama Club and NFL capped a successful year.

In Drama Club action students participating in Humorous and Dramatic contests were Kathy Berry, Linda Zimmerman, Marilyn Pfefferkorn, and Penny Platt. In addition members worked on the fall play, THE DIARY OF ANNE FRANK, and the three one-act plays presented in the spring.

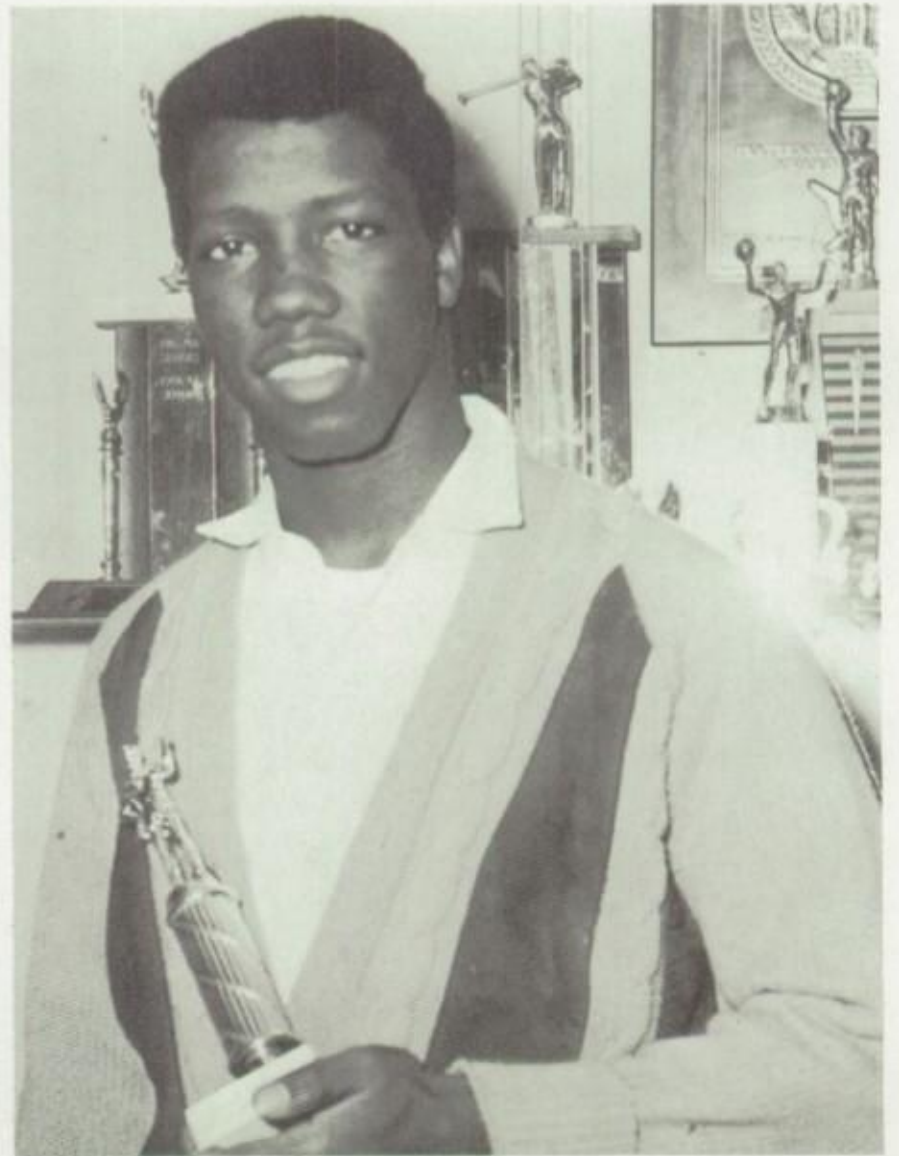

The PHS Debate Team finished its season with a 4--2 record at the district tournament in Fremont. Leonard Matz and Gary Guzy broke the school record by winning three out of three rounds.

Perhaps the outstanding speech event of the year was Jim Mitchell's placing fourth at the State Forensic Tournament in "original Oratory" category.

Behind stage as well as on stage the tension mounts as The Diary of Anne Frank progresses successfully.

The Diary of Anne Frank Is Fall Dramatic Offering

The plight of Jewish families in Nazi Germany was made vivid to Perkins students when THE DIARY OF ANN FRANK was presented on November 15 under the guidance of novice director Miss Mary Ann Crabtree.

The cast was spear-headed by Sophomore Kathy Berry who gave a convincing portrayal of Anne Frank, a teenager caught in the agony of war. The part of her firm and wise father who was visibly aged by his great responsibility was played by senior Gary Guzy. Kathy and Gary were supported by the performances of freshman Dan Sampson, Juniors Scott Bing, Bill Manson, Debbie Gaydosh, Theresa Orhial, Nona Graham, and Donna Lynn Jameson, and senior Leonard Matz.

Bells Are Ringing Receives Ovations

It was time for a first when the PHS music department and drama department co-operated to present the first musical in school history.

BELLS ARE RINGING was presented on March 27 and 28 to capacity audiences. Marilyn Hawkins, Cindy Lipke, Gary Guzy, and Mike Sartor led the cast of thirty in presenting the story of an answering service. Susanswerphone, run by two young girls who just can't help getting involved in the lives of their customers, even when those customers turn out to be book-makers.

Latin II Classes Host Banquet

"When in Rome . . ." was the order of the day March 4 when the annual Latin Banquet was held. The banquet, though organized by the Latin II class, was attended by Latin I and II students, Mr. and Mrs. Null, and Mr. and Mrs. Echelberger.

Dressed in togas, sandals, and crowns, the "Romans" of Latin I were auctioned as slaves to the Latin II "citizens". During the feast that followed, an oracle read each student's prophecy while the Latin II class put on a play. The last event of the banquet was a slightly-modified version of the Olympic games.

Bath towels and sheets were miraculously converted into togas for a night, while such Epicurean delights as chicken, baked beans, and cole slaw were served.

Three Activities Prepare Students for Future Vocations

Three vocational clubs at Perkins prepared students to meet the challenges of the post-educational world. These activities are Home Ec Club, Future Secretaries, and Future Farmers of America.

While learning, the members of the Home Ec Club and Future Secretaries also donated time to help faculty members by repairing drapes and typing.

The FFA this year participated in Parliamentary Procedure and Soil Judging contests as well as learning the mechanics of farming.

Journalism I Class Produces Log, Plans 1970 Quadrant

For members of the Log staff, this year was an initiation into the hectic world of the news media. Learning news-style writing, cropping pictures, counting column inches, acquiring a new vocabulary of jargon, and, of course, meeting deadlines were a few of the problems encountered by these cub reporters.

The last part of the year was spent in making plans for the 1970 QUADRANT which will be edited by Karen Weiland.

Quadrant Staff Uses New Approach

A new copy format, Mondrian-designed layouts and additional pages and color pictures were a few of the innovations attempted by the QUADRANT staff under first-year adviser Miss Balconi. The Journalism II class which produced the yearbook was headed by Jim Mitchell, editor-in-chief, and compiled of eight other students. Perhaps the hardest-working member of the class was Kerry Myers who as chief photographer took hundreds of pictures and waded through thousands of negatives to achieve the resulting yearbook photos.

School Athletes Are Represented in GAA and Varsity P

The "goingest" groups in the school are GAA and Varsity P. Every Wednesday the GAA girls can be found engaging in some competitive sport (although some members point to the annual defeat of the women faculty members at volleyball as the exception). A highlight of the '69 year was the group picnic at president Mary Jo Zielske's pond.

Varsity P is composed of all Perkins lettermen. One of its main functions is to increase school spirit and participation in sports. This year members of the group could be easily recognized wearing their new lettermen shirts.

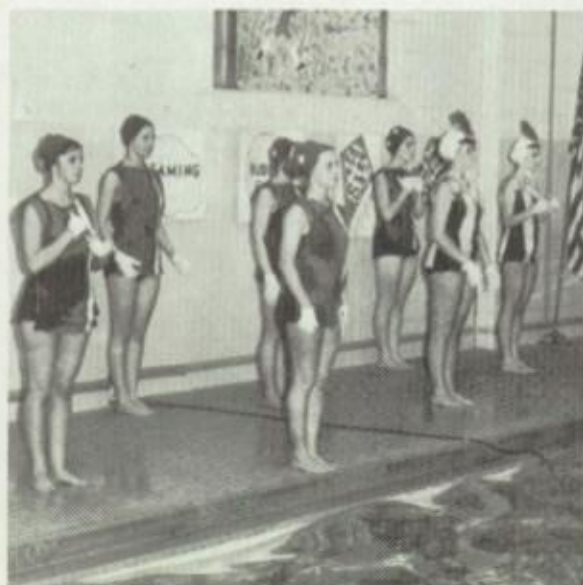

ROW ONE: Senior members of Varsity P are J. Schlessman, S. Fosco, G. Sprow, P. McGookey, K. Zeiher, J. Printy, J. Verble, A. Cundari, C. Williams, J. Meister, B. Weichel, D. Patsch (R. 2, #1), D. Thomas (R. 2, #8), D. Binting (R. 2, #9), T. Ross (R. 3, #1), D. Blay (R. 3, #2) and K. Myers (R. 4, #8).

“What’s More American?” Proves a Success

What symbolizes America? The Aqua Tones decided such things as bubble gum, Broadway, the Model T, and an eagle say "America" to most people, and with this created their annual show around numbers based on these things.

The show was performed before capacity crowds on April 24-26 with Libbie Stacey and Peggy Seiler as featured soloists. Debbie Roehrs and Debbie Kiss and Liz Davlin and Kathy Shepherd each performed a duet.

1969 Prom Becomes a "Treasured" Memory

Treasure Isle was overrun with pirates May 17 when the juniors hosted the annual prom for the seniors. The gym, transformed into an exotic tropical island complete with grass shacks and a tiki god, was the scene of the gathering while music was provided by the "Pastels."

Carefully decorated tables became centers of action when invaded by the Pirates.

The baseball team, under the tutoring of Coach Jim Shaeffer, had a fine 13--3 record. This was the best record in Perkins baseball history. Besides this accomplishment, they were sectional champions and St. Mary's Invitational Consolation Winners. Mr. Shaeffer will be furthering his education at Tennessee Tech next year, and will not be coaching. There is no doubt that he has left in a great fashion.

Ken Wolters shows fine stride.

The '69 edition of the track team faced their stiffest competition in the school's history. Although their dual meet record was 3--6, there were several bright spots. Four school records were broken this spring. With the possibility of attaining a cross country team, Perkins will probably be on an equal caliber of the competition that they have been facing.

A Time for . . .

SENIORS

The Washington Trip Signals the Start of the Senior Year.

Ken Wolters discussed the itinerary with the bus driver.

Can the class of '69 ever forget their class trip to Washington D.C.? Or better yet, can Washington forget them? The '69ers turned what could have been a dull, hot trip into an extremely delightful, fun-loving excursion.

There were the water balloon fights at the motel, the misplaced persons, the excitement of walking by the poor peoples camp, and last of all, the walk to the top of the Washington monument on a 98° day, after which everyone slept through the movie the faculty had been so cautious to choose. Can anyone forget a trip like that?

The Time Every '69er Was Waiting for...

Suddenly it's THE day, June 4, 1969, commencement day for 164 PHS seniors.

Against the background of the lavender and silver-decorated gym, board president Larry Holkenborg presented the diplomas while lavender-tipped roses were given to the students by Cathy Harple, junior class vice-president.

Honor students of the class of 1969 were Gus Sprow, Anthony Cundari, Jeanette Gittinger, Sue Randel, Kathy Woell, Mary Jo Zielske, and Carol Church. Peg Seiler received the Perkins Chamber of Commerce Distinguished Service Award.

Kathy Woell in her commencement address claimed that while we are "members of the most affluent society," prejudice continues to grow and pondered the future. Her solution to the problem was a quote from Rod McKuen . . . "Love is all there is to life."

A Time for

Gratitude

The time we've spent at Perkins has been a time of both joy and tears. We'll always remember rushing to the bookstore in the morning, cramming into the halls for lunch tokens, and seeing the drowsy faces which always looked happy at the end of the day. We'll always remember, too, the thrill of victories and the pain of defeats, the hectic sounds of the cafeteria, the teachers who were special, and, for us, the yearbook staff, the QUADRANT.

In the '69 QUADRANT we've tried to create a book which will always revive memories of this time of your life. For us it's been a job of "joy and tears" . . . the frustration of not being able to find the right picture, the elation of doing a page layout which seemed just right, the tenseness of trying to meet a deadline, and the relief of knowing the QUADRANT was completed. We are grateful to many for helping us with the yearbook, but our greatest debt is to you, the students of Perkins High School, because you are the 1969 QUADRANT, and we say "thank-you."

QUADRANT
